WHEELING, W. VA., MAY 1, 1886.

The second speech of Mr. Jefferson Davis at Montgomery was not quite so barren of ideas as that of the day before, inducements to consider itself pacified. Having said what he did, Mr. Davis might have gone a little farther and de-clared that the Jefferson Davis who, as a Senator of the United States, intrigued in Washington to set up a rebellious government, and then walked out of the Senate, was a Senator from Massachusetts, not from Mississippi.

Mr. Davis was not frank enough to say that the crowning offense against the South was the election of Abraham Lincoln to the Presidency—a studied affront to the South and a cold-blooded denial of Marietta bank that he was fortunate the right of that section to select Presidents for the Republic. dents for the Republic.

It is a good thing for the South that, except on gala days such as that at Montgomery, she is too busy to amuse herself with the sort of thing that furnishes Mr. Davis with the sweet clixir of life. But his "days are gliding swiftly by," and the False Prophet of '61-'65 is now little more than a memory of a gigantic misadventure. The potato bug or the grasshopper is more to be dreaded than Jeff Davis.

The Party Line on Laucation The Republican party has done its best to pass through Congress a measure that would put the Southern States in a way to educate the colored millions and leave little excuse for not doing it. The Blair bill recognizes the fact that emancipation threw upon the South and upon the country a heavy weight of illiteracy. It recognizes that emancipation was a national act, that enfranchisement was a national act, and that relief ought to come from the same source. For reasons of their own the Democrats

For reasons of their own the Democrats and their Mugwump allies have made a savage assault on this measure of relief and are doing their best to strangle it with fair, share of success. Editing a Paper. Dawson (Ga) Jovenal

Dawson (Ga.) Journal.

Editing a paper is a pleasant husiness—
if you like it.

If it contains much political matter, people won't have it.

If the type is large it don't contain much reading matter.

If we publish telegraphic reports, folks say they are nothing but lies.

If we omit them, we have no enterprise; or suppress them for political effect.

If we have a few jokes, folks say we are nothing but ratteleneds.

If we omit jokes, folks say we are nothing but fossils.

If we publish original matter, they damn

Eves Before Lambing.

The following on this subject is from the columns of an English paper: Glid-diness, addiness and staggers, which are no often found amongst eves, are caused from living on good pastures the summer months, or their being fed for show, purposes, then having inferior food after being about eleven weeks gone in lamb. Ewes are more subject to this disease in a wet time than in dry fine weather. Turnips given without dry food are very injurious the last six weeks or two months before lambing, and sconer than that if it is wet, with frosty nights. In all cases watch closely, and farmers will find that most of the ewes which die have not had food with enough nutriment at some period of the last ten weeks before Isanbing. What proves this is, that the ewes lost are those which would have that either two or three lambs each. If they have not sufficient food to keep them ap (as they require to make so much more blood than when barren) the blood becomes poor and causes weakness, which is the main root of the evil of this disease. The more reasonably ewes are kept the fewer losses there will be, and the more bone and muscle the young obtain before birth the more likely they are to thrive after.

A Birthday Surprise. A Birthday Surprise.

A pleasant surprise party was tendered mr. Howard Wells last Thursday at his residence on the South Side, the occasion being his nineteenth birthday. Dancing, singing and different, parlor games were the amusements of the evening. At midnight a bountful supply of rafreehments was served and heartily enjoyed by all. The music was by Babcock's orchestra. Amoug those present the scribe noticed the following: Misses Louisa Haberstick, Sophia Wendel, Ida Beuter, Dona Kurtz, Annie O'Hare, Emma Kine, Sallie Dawson, Miss Kline; Mrs. William Wendel, Mrs. Wells, and Messra. William Harberstick, Howard Wells, William Raue, Willie Dalin, Frank Wendel, George Wells, August Weidebusch, John Roth, William Wendel, Peter Bonenberger, P. J. Moran, M. Moran, Alonzo St. Myers and others.

barren of ideas as that of the day before. He went a little more fully into the long ago, worked over again the forgotten speeches of John C. Calhoun, and once more misquoted the history of the rebellion.

Mr. Davis is not "the coming historian", who will above all things try to tell the truth. He endeavors to make this generation of southern men believe that the North drove the South out of the Union, fired on Sumter, and refused all inducements to consider itself pacified.

when Mr. Blair's bill had been passed twice by a Republican Senate—a bill which proposed to give those States money which needed money—a Denocratic committee of a Democratic committee of a Democratic blue of Representatives actually substitutes a bill which gives to the Southern States, where all the negroes reside, not a dollar more than their school population entitles them to.

If the House of Representatives shall take up with this substitute, we fear that the consequence will be fatal to the public life of many a Democratic member. We won't say that it is no better than no law, but we do say that the Southern Congressman who supports it in preference to receive the supports the property of the protect your wills and children the public life of many a Democratic member.
